What is Anion

What's an anion ?

Anion is the atomic element of air having a true electric charge to give a refresh in human mind & body in the forest, waterfall, hot spring etc. If an atom has no electron, it's a caution. If an atom has electron, it's an anion. If breathing these anions, the human has a high metabolism, a strong vital power, a purified blood, anion effect, a recover effect of fatigue, etc. Also, anions have the effect of improving an appetite. So, it's called as a vitamin of air. The distributed number of anions per 1cc air is 800 ~ 2,000 pcs in the comfortably natural condition such as the forest, the waterfall, the hot spring, the coastal area, etc.

The function of anion

If it contains abundantly over 1,000 anions per 1cc air, it will soften stress and anxiety which are essential elements of asthma and migraine to increase actively "a" wave of brain. Also, it's reported that anion is the best for asthma, migraine, bronchitis as well as betterment of individual mentality (as relaxation of stress and achievement ability of mental exercise) to control serotonin and free histamine of nerve hormone caused a respiratory disease as asthma. Moreover, it's reported that anions have a big influence of remedial value of patients and health according to the number of anions existing in the air. a) Purification of the blood The anion purifies blood to alkalify and increase the ratio of ionization of calcium, kalium, and natrium of minerals in the blood. b) Activation of the cell If the blood has much anions, it eliminates waste matters from the system as if has a high metabolism to accelerate the electric material in the cell wall. c) The increasing power of resistance If the anion treatment can be tried, the remedial value will be quickly come. As the power of resistance can be increased against the infected symptoms to increase the number of γ - globulin as the immune elements including the blood serum. d) Control of the autonomic nervous system The number of anions controls the autonomic nervous system to put the human body a good use to react against the feeling and thought as the internal organs and blood vessel.
